With her wonderful words and pictures, Shirley Hughes makes every number memorable — from one small boy called Alfie to Annie Rose's ten little toes. 1

One, two, three – go!
Here's one little boy called Alfie, running up the street.

Two's company.

Alfie can count and he's teaching his little sister Annie Rose.

... 2

2...

It takes two to see-saw.

But when Alfie gets on, Annie Rose goes up in the air and Alfie hits the ground
– plonk!
(I wonder why?)

2^{..}

Here are two pairs of shoes.
One pair is Alfie's and the other belongs to Annie Rose. That makes one, two, three, four shoes altogether!

2

And here are Alfie's Noah's Ark animals, walking two by two.

3

Three's company when friends come to play...

...though sometimes Annie Rose feels left out.

3...

Alfie and his dad and the pig make three.

Funny old pig!

4

There are four people in Alfie's family
(not counting Chessie the cat).

But when they go on a visit to Grandma's house there are five.

5

Five people getting ready for a party...

...and five balloons!

6

Six cows, browsing in a field...

6

...and six children sitting around the table at Alfie's birthday party.

Sam is under the table,
so that makes seven!

7

Seven friendly neighbours, having tea together.

8

Eight party children, popping bubbles.
Bubbles are light, they float in the air...

...some big, some small... too many to count when you are busy popping!

8

Eight people walking to work up Alfie's street. Are the same number coming home again?

If you add one little dog that makes nine.

9.....

Nine messy bears, walking around Alfie's bowl.

And nine old friends, waiting to play.

10 · · · ·

Ten fingers each – five on one hand and five on the other!

And how many toes?

10.....

Ten children playing on a big fallen tree.

And so many leaves on the trees,
and so many flowers and berries growing,

and shells and stones on the beach...

...and creatures on the earth...

...and so many stars in the sky
that we can't count them!

SHIRLEY HUGHES' first picture book was published in 1960, and she has illustrated over two hundred children's books since then. Alfie and Annie Rose are two of her best-loved characters, and the ups and downs of their daily lives are mirrored in many children's own experiences. The beautiful pictures that Shirley creates are based on hours of careful observation, plus inspired insight into the little things that loom so large in children's lives.

'No one can match her in the simple mastery of both words and pictures.'

The Times Educational Supplement

'Shirley Hughes never fails to inspire recognition in toddlers . . . She is an artist who represents ordinary life in a way that makes adults and children alike fall in love with it.'
